Marian was born and raised in Wareham and was educated locally. She left when she became a teacher and has since taught in both the UK and overseas. Marian has been living back in Wareham for the last 15 years. However, she really looked forward to coming home for holidays as Wareham is a very special place. We are a friendly, supportive and inclusive community of which Marian is proud to be a part. We need to embrace the future and she is here to listen to, and put forward the concerns of the town's residents to ensure that it is a town that we can all be proud of, for us and future generations.
