

Sue moved to Wareham in early 2015 and lives and works here. She is originally from Rugby in Warwickshire. Sue is a photographer and likes to take photographs of the Wareham Whalers, as her partner is the Commodore. She loves the town and the Purbecks. Sue visited as a child and fell in love with Wareham then, and considers herself so lucky to have returned to live here in her adult life. She adores this town, so she became a Councillor to help make Wareham a happier and a more vibrant town for everybody: young and old, resident or visitor, to enjoy for years to come. Sue's voice will not make empty promises or follow any political party's agenda. It is a voice you can trust to the for Wareham'